CHOICE ITEMS

—FOR—

BIG AND LITTLE SYNDICATES,

CAPITALISTS AND SPECULATORS.

We make a specialty of organizing syndicates and handling large tracts, and have some unusual openings for capital seeking safe and profitable investment.

The following are a few of the properties we desire to place, and we would be pleased to show them to responsible parties and explain our plans for handling them for best results:

500 ACRES

IN THE GREAT SAN GABRIEL VALLEY, NEAR ALHAMBRA.

This is one of the finest tracts of land in Los Angeles county for a profitable investment, and cannot be excelled either for fruits or vines; and, at the same time, its location and accessibility insures its value as a choice locality for suburban homes. This property has also some special features which would be a guarantee of ready and profitable sale as a subdivision.

200 ACRES

(the first choice) of the grand old NADEAU VINEYARD.

At a price to make it sell "on the dot" to any syndicate with a little ready money. We can also sell a part of this in small subdivisions on easy terms.

BEAUTIFUL LICK TRACT,

In subdivisions of from one to 10 acres, at from $350 to $1500 per acre. The building of the new hotel, Winchester, itself more magnificent than the Raymond, and its location far more beautiful, is the first step toward making the Lick Tract what it deserves to be, the peer of Pasadena. Mark this prediction.

FOR SOME RAILROAD CORPORATION

We have 25 acres

WITHIN A MILE OF THE NADEAU HOUSE,

At a figure which will be appreciated.

IN DESIRABLE CITY PROPERTY.

From our endless list, we mention a few choice items of the gilt-edge order, at attractive figures:

A fine corner on Adams street.
A corner on aristocratic Figueroa, and
A specially desirable corner on Pearl street.

FOR INVESTORS

—IN—

BUSINESS PROPERTY

We have a large list, including some choice retail property on Main, Spring and Fort streets, and a choice piece of property on Los Angeles street for wholesale business.

WE ARE EXCLUSIVE AGENTS

—FOR—

And other choice subdivisions, and also original agents for South Cucamonga.

For those who pin their faith to "Broad Acres" we can offer a number of choice ranch properties, and also a large tract of farming lands, on easy terms and in lots to suit.

We have a list of properties complete in all departments, and are pleased to serve our friends at any time. Strangers in the city are invited to share the courtesies of our office.

The East Los Angeles Churches—A Big Brute Slaps a Little Girl—The San Pedro Jail Leaks—The City in Brief.

A large and appreciative audience was in attendance at the Central Baptist Church, Good Templars' Hall, yesterday morning, and Rev. William H. Pendleton delivered one of his telling discourses, brim full of evangelical truths. At the close of the sermon Ella M. Cook was received into the church by letter. Then followed the usual monthly sacramental service, which the congregation were invited to remain and witness.

Church of Jesus Christ.

Elder E. L. Kelley of the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints held the usual service at the K. of P. Hall, 24 South Spring street yesterday, and delivered an interesting discourse from the 26th verse of the 14th chapter of St. John: "But the Comforter, which is the Holy Ghost, whom the Father will send in my name, He shall teach you all things and bring all things to your remembrance, whatsoever I have said unto you."

Bethany Church.

Rev. J. Gilfillen of Bethlehem Presbyterian Church delivered, yesterday morning, a sermon introductory to the week of prayer, taking for his theme a part of the 28th verse of the 21st chapter of St. Luke: "Lift up your heads; for your redemption draweth nigh." Services will be held every evening this week at 7:30 o'clock, excepting Saturday. This evening, at 7:30 o'clock, a meeting of the members will be held for the election of three trustees. There was a large audience present, and the church was handsomely decorated.

First Congregational Church.

The First Congregational Church received a number of new converts and had its communion yesterday. The service was impressive and the edifice crowded.

In East Los Angeles.

The Rev. Dr. Cox gave an interesting discourse to a good audience in the East Los Angeles Methodist Episcopal Church last night. It was the usual Sunday night service, and his hearers were edified.

Rev. Dr. J. H. Boggs of Philadelphia supplied the pulpit of the Second Presbyterian Church of East Los Angeles last night, taking for his subject Genesis, xlii, 13, from which he elicited the fallacy of seeking after the good things of life, to the neglect of those of eternity, and the tendency of the people of today to do as Lot did, namely, devote too much of their time to gathering wealth and fame, to the neglect of their hearts, and jeopardizing their chances for eternal life.

The new pastor-elect of the Second Presbyterian Church, East Los Angeles, Robert M. Irvine, will commence his duties next Sunday, at the usual hours of service, morning and evening.

HIGH MASS.

How the New Year Was Celebrated by the Catholics.

The special services at the Cathedral of St. Vibiana yesterday contained a number of new features, and an immense crowd of worshippers almost filled the grand edifice. After the morning mass, which was celebrated at 7:30 o'clock, Rev. Father O'Connor, a novitiate, was ordained and invested with the vestments of the church.

At 10 o'clock high mass was celebrated by Rev. Father Bartsen, and an eloquent sermon on the subject of the New Year was preached by Rev. Father Scanlan.

It had been previously announced that Millard's high mass would be performed by the choir, but unfortunately the principal tenor, who had a solo in that mass, was confined to his room with a severe cold, so it was changed to "Le Jeal," and Millard's mass will be celebrated next Sunday.

The chorus showed careful training, and was of great assistance in making the celebration pass off smoothly. The beautiful duet in Le Jeal's mass was well rendered by Mrs. Sellenscheidt, and Mrs. A. G. Gardner, contralto, as was also the fine bass solo by Mr. von Hofe. Mr. Staunm of Garvanza sang the tenor solo in the Benedictus and displayed great force and character in his voice. Probably the most attractive and best-executed number of the whole service was the soprano solo, "O Saloturis," by Mrs. O. W. Childs, given as an offertory.

Mr. A. G. Gardner, the organist and choirmaster, has been exerting himself for some time past to make his choir thoroughly efficient, and has been successful beyond his expectations. For the future Mr. Gardner has decided to follow the service entire as laid down in the Ruiric, and will therefore introduce an entroit and gloria before the Kyrie, and a graduale, followed by the communion.

At the conclusion of the service yesterday morning Mr. Gardner played a grand march, composed by himself especially for this occasion, and entitled "A Happy New Year to All."

At the churches of Our Lady of the Angels and St. Vincent high mass was also celebrated, and appropriate sermons were preached by the pastors to large congregations.

THE ELECTRIC ROAD.

New Officers Elected—What the Company Will Do.

The new organization of the Los Angeles Electric Light Company is as follows: Directors: O. W. Childs, I. W. Hellman, Abe Haas, C. H. Howland and William Lacy. From this board officers were elected as follows: President, O. W. Childs; vice-president, A. Haas; general manager, C. H. Howland, and secretary, W. R. Blackman.

From the programme laid down at the meeting of the board of directors, it appears they have come to the conclusion to extend their plant to such a size that will meet with the demands of such a growing city as this now is. By a practically unanimous vote it was decided to erect a new building, to cover twice the ground occupied by their present establishment. New machinery is to be added at once, to rather more than double the present capacity, and this at an expense of $150,000.

When these necessary improvements are made, Col. C. H. Howland, the general manager, says the plant in Los Angeles will be as large as any single plant in the United States. The especial idea in thus adding to their capacity is to remove the cause of the present grumbling about lack of power, and to enable the company to meet any demands made upon them for light.

The long-expected new cars for the Pico-street Electric Railway have at last arrived, and are now waiting to be removed from the depot. As the wires have not all been stretched on the branches to the Santa Fé tract and down Maple avenue, it is not likely the new cars will be put in operation until this work is done. The cars just arrived are splendidly fitted up and substantially built. They are one seat longer than the longest cars in use on any street railway in this city. The new engine recently purchased by the company, together with the boiler, is now in position, and as soon as the necessary switch can be put in on Wall street, cars will run from the corner of First and Los Angeles streets every 15 minutes.

GREAT DOINGS.

How Bold Confidence Men Treated San Pedro's Jail.

A gay circus man, whose name has not yet been learned, visited San Pedro the other day with the intention of doing that little town up. Soon after arriving there he picked up a local sport named Zeigler, who offered to join in the "do up" business. Zeigler's part of the work was to see the local officers and induce them to shut their eyes and not rush in on the robber of greenhorns just at the wrong time. Zeigler saw all of the officers, and thought the coast was clear so far as his circus friend was concerned; but in this he was mistaken, for as soon as the circus fellow got his shell game ready for business, a big constable pounced down on him and marched him to the jail. He was locked up

CRIMINAL MATTERS.

EAST, THE ATTORNEY, STILL IN COURT.

Rather Interesting Testimony Last Saturday—The Case Will Not Be Concluded Until Tomorrow—A Woman Probably in the Case.

At 10 o'clock Saturday morning the case of the People against East was again called, and, on motion of counsel for the defense, the testimony, as given by Mr. Vinette on Friday afternoon, was read over by the court reporter. Mr. Vinette then took the stand and continued his testimony as follows:

That letter you have is the same one I wrote to Mr. East. It contains a request for him to hand over the notes and papers to Arthur Vinette, my brother. That letter you now have Mr. East sent me in answer, together with the mortgage which you have in your hand. In that letter he asks me to sign a power of attorney, and states he would then send me some money. In reply to this I wrote to my brother, telling him to demand both papers and note of East and to show the letter I wrote him to East. Mr. East then sent me a receipt to sign, which, he stated, he would also get my brother to sign and would then give him (my brother Arthur) all the papers, cash, etc., therein referred to. This receipt I did not sign, but sent it to my brother, telling him to go at once and make a demand for the property East held. When I gave the note to East it had no indorsements on the back. That is the note you have. That indorsement on the back, reading "Pay to the order of A. B. East or order, William H. Vinette," is not my writing, nor have I ever authorized any person to so indorse. It is a forgery. The other indorsements, reading "Pay to the order of Andrew Stoll, A. B. East," is also on that note without my authority. That handwriting is Mr. East's to the best of my knowledge and belief, as I have compared it with letters I have received from East and it is exactly similar. I also know it is his writing, because when I left the note in East's hands there was not the scratch of a pen on its reverse side, and when it was sold those indorsements were there. No one else to my knowledge had, up to that time, touched the note. I never sent East a power of attorney, nor did I instruct my brother to give him such authority. I cannot say whether the papers were ever in Brown's safe or not. The papers here produced were offered in evidence and marked Exhibits A, B, C, etc.]. I have never received one cent on that note.

Cross-examined: When I gave the note and papers into East's care I had every confidence in him. I did not ask East to purchase this note. I never got either note or abstract from Mr. Miles and took them to East. I do not know of there being any trouble about the abstract on account of the homestead declaration, neither do I know that any lien was filed against it by my divorced wife. I did not employ East to make a second abstract title. I never told East I did not want a purchaser for the note. I did not tell East to turn the papers over to any other person. I went to Colorado perfectly satisfied and content. It was about the latter end of June when I received a letter from Mr. Randall, in which that gentleman told me Mr. East was not reliable; then I wrote East to give the papers to my brother. I left here about the 17th of April. I made my headquarters at Fulton Wells for some time previous to the sale of my lot, but not afterward. Mr. East did not tell me to indorse the note so he might dispose of it. I did not sign the receipt East sent me, for the reason that it was a snare got up by East to get hold of the property and leave me out in the cold. The receipt shows on its face that it was a snare. I would not sign the receipt because I wanted the note and papers in my hand first. I was not indebted to East in any sum. I did not owe him 1 cent. I did not employ East to get my wife out of the house.

Re-direct: I left the papers with East because I could not help myself. He told me they were in Brown's safe, and I could not get them.

A recess was here taken until 2 p.m.

Immediately after the noon recess the brother of the complaining witness, Arthur Vinette, took the stand and testified: My brother wrote me from Denver, Colo., to go to East and get his papers and the note. I did so, and East did not give me either, but asked for my brother's address. He told me he had an opportunity to sell the note without discount, and he would do so if my brother would send him a power of attorney. East continued on to tell me that when he sold the note he would be able to give my brother's wife enough money to enable her to go to my brother at Manitou Springs. The first power of attorney my brother sent me was not acknowled, so I had to get another. This I did, and Mr. East said it was all right, but kept putting me off and putting me off until I got tired of going to him. Next I found that the note had been sold, and on going to the man who held the note, I found to my surprise that it had been indorsed to A. B. East. The indorsement was not in my brother's writing.

Cross-examined: When I first went to East, he said I must have a power of attorney before he would give me the papers. That is why I got the other power of attorney.

Andrew B. Vealey testified: I am a broker. I got a note from A. B. East some time in July. That is the note you have. It had the indorsement to W. H. Vinette on it at the time East gave it to me. I negotiated its sale, and got the face value for it, and turned the money over to East, less the brokerage, which I believe was about $25. East did not tell me he had an interest in the note.

A. B. East then testified: Vinette came to me to get me to make some paper out for him. He came to my office several times, and on one of these occasions he told me he wanted me to take the note and sell it for him. He promised me at the time that he would pay me well for the work. I never signed his name to that note. That signature was made by Vinette himself, and I wrote the indorsement and the lower indorsement. I told him he must sign it or I could not dispose of it. He wanted me to give his wife some money, and wanted the balance of the amount of the note to pay taxes, etc. I remember going to Mr. Miles with Vinette. It was near April 15th or 17th. I went to several attorneys with the note and abstract, but they seemed to think there was a flaw in the title, and could do nothing with the note on that account.

The witness here attempted to introduce a letter, which he claimed he had written to Vinette, stating he was about to sell the note, but which letter had been returned to the writer. Counsel for the prosecution objected to the admission of the testimony, as it was written by the defendant, and was therefore inadmissible. Objection was sustained.

The witness continued: I had instructions from Vinette to sell the note and to pay myself out of the proceeds and give $50 to his divorced wife. He never told me not to sell the note, but pressed me to do so. Vinette never asked me for the note. I had the note at one time in Brown's safe, but never refused to let him have it. I sent him blank receipts to sign, and told him then I would give up all his property in my possession if he would sign the receipts. I wanted the receipt signed, as he had had trouble with his wife and knew that she had filed a homestead claim on the property a year after she had been divorced from him, and she then swore that she did not know that she had been divorced. I did not know he had a brother until he came to my office with a demand for the papers. I finally got Mr. Vealey to cash the note, but I did not tell him I wanted to use the money.

In his cross-examination the defendant stuck pretty close to the statement made in the direct examination, but broke down when closely questioned in relation to the remuneration he had received from Vinette. Neither could the defendant explain why it was he asked Vinette to assign the mortgage to him (East) when the note had been purchased by Mr. Vealey. He was also very positive that Vinette had signed his name on the back of the note, but acknowledged that he had written the indorsement above the signature of Vinette.

The Court then announced that the case would have to be continued until Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock, on account of the holidays.

Queer People.

Two recent arrivals from Germany called at Constable Ed Smith's office with a complaint that they had been robbed, and wanted that officer to get their money back ($55) and arrest the men who did the swindling. From their story it appeared they had been taken in by confidence men who had got the money from them on the lottery racket, but as they could give neither the names of the robbers nor where the house is situated where their money was taken from them, no steps could be taken by the authorities.

A BOLD RASCAL.

An Officer's Exciting Chase and Capture.

Deputy Constable Joe Del Valle Saturday afternoon made an exciting capture of a slick crook on Los Angeles street. Joe was standing on the corner of First and Los Angeles streets when he noticed a suspicious-looking man, somewhat under the influence of liquor, trying to hoist a big sack on to his shoulders. He presently succeeded, and looking around to see if he was observed, started up Los Angeles at a very fast gait. Joe followed the man at a respectable distance, and saw the fellow stop at Heilman & Haas' wholesale grocery store and steal a large ham. At this the officer gave chase, and finally running him down, arrested him and took him to the County Jail. He there gave his name as Louis Edwards, and on being searched it was found his clothing was literally stuffed with stolen articles. Shoes, knives, socks, a hat, some canned goods and other articles were taken from him, and are now awaiting owners at the County Jail.

Poor East.

Saturday morning a man went into Justice Taney's court and asked for a warrant on a charge of embezzlement for A. B. East, the defendant in the forgery case now on trial in Justice Austin's court. The man said East had drawn a check on the Southern California National Bank, in favor of Messrs Erhardt & Steeb for $15. When the check was presented at the bank for payment, it was indorsed by the cashier "no funds," and returned to the payee. When Mr. East was seen about the matter, he told a TIMES reporter that it was possible he had overdrawn his account, but he did not think he had. Further than that Mr. East would say nothing.

A Woman Shot.

Late Saturday afternoon Jennie Cook, who lives at No. 15½ San Fernando street, and her lover, Frank Delano, had a serious quarrel. He called her some hard names, when she ordered him away from the place. This so enraged him that he drew a pistol and fired point blank at her. The bullet took effect in one of her legs and she fell to the ground. He believed that he had killed her and started off on the dead run. The woman was taken to Dr. Wright's office and the wound was dressed. Delano made good his escape and will probably not be captured until a new chief untangles the present police tangle.

TEMPLE-STREET CABLE.

Close of a Very Prosperous Year—Double Track.

This company has one and three-quarter miles of single-track road in operation and purposes the immediate changing into a double-track road in order to accommodate its rapidly-increasing business.

Over 750,000 passengers have been transported on this line in the last 12 months.

The driving plant is to be remodeled and enlarged on the plan of the Market-street road in San Francisco, duplicate engines and boilers provided, and the whole placed on a first-class footing.

The number of trains will be increased, so that residents on its line will receive the best possible service.

The management now runs late trains, and residents in the extreme western portion of the city can attend the theater as conveniently as those closer in.

Great care is used in the selection of careful and polite employés, and the road closes the year with practically no accidents.

Its influence on real estate in its vicinity has been wonderful, property increasing in many instances more than 400 per cent. And one of the results of its construction is the building up with beautiful homes of a vast area of barren hills.

Fire Commissioners.

The Board of Fire Commissioners met Saturday afternoon at the Mayor's office. Present: Workman, Kuhrts, Humphreys and Strohm.

The fire chief was instructed to look for a suitable location for the hose house on Boyle Heights, and report at the next meeting, and also to investigate the feasibility of organizing a volunteer company in that locality.

On motion of Mr. Kuhrts the City Clerk was instructed to notify the City Water Company to put a fire hydrant on the southeast corner of Ellis avenue and Scarff street.

The fire chief was instructed to investigate the Citizens' Water Company and report to the board.

Mr. Kuhrts moved that, as no proposition had been received by the Fire Commissioners for the exchange of the lot on Truman street, near Downey avenue, for the city lot on the corner of Hays and Hoff streets, that the Commissioners recommend that the erection of the engine-house at the last-named site be proceeded with immediately.

It was decided, on motion of Mr. Kuhrts, to call the new engine W. H. Workman, No. 5.

On motion of Mr. Kuhrts the Council was recommended to instruct the City Attorney to draw up a contract with the Manchester Locomotive Works for a second-class (in size) double Amoskeag engine, at the price of $4300, delivered free on board the cars at Los Angeles. Terms, cash within 30 days after the receipt and acceptance of the engine.

On motion it was decided that the Commissioners should select a location for the engine W. H. Workman on the western hills of the city, near Temple street.

There being no further business the board adjourned.

The Chief of Police.

The fight for the office of Chief of Police grows red-hot. The Councilmen were buttonholed on every corner Saturday by anxious candidates. The fun of it is that every one of them is confident that he will be the successful man. Constable Ed Smith's friends are working like beavers, and seem to know what they are doing. As near as could be learned last night, he is at the head of the list, with a fair prospect of being the next Chief. Every one who knows him is confident that if he is elected now he will hold the office for several years to come.

A Horrible Accident.

Saturday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock Samuel Davis, a carpenter, was working on the roof of the Siege of Paris building on Main street, near Fourth, when he lost his footing and fell a distance of 47 feet to the ground. He was killed instantly. Coroner Meredith held an inquest on the remains, and the jury decided that his death was purely accidental. The young man came to this city from New Orleans a few months ago, and had the reputation of being sober and industrious. His parents were notified by telegraph.

THE SMALLPOX.

The Board of Trade Takes Steps Against an Epidemic.

The following letters were issued from the office of the Board of Trade in this city Saturday:

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 31.

E. E. Hewitt, Superintendent Southern Pacific System, Los Angles City—DEAR SIR: The spread of smallpox in San Francisco has assumed such proportions as to cause the Board of Health of that city, at a session held December 29th, to declare the disease epidemic. This has excited no slight alarm in our city.

Naturally, the free intercourse between this city and San Francisco afforded by rail makes it not at all improbable, in view of the large passenger traffic between the two cities, that the disease could be brought here by that means more readily than by any other, unless, possibly, by steamer.

In view, therefore, of the possibility of the disease being brought here over the line of the railroad, I am instructed on the part of the directors of this board to respectfully suggest to you the advisability of instructions being issued from your office to conductors and trainmen to take the utmost precautions in permitting passengers from San Francisco bound to this city or points beyond to pass over the road, should there exist on their part a reasonable fear that they are afflicted with the disease. The point at which such examination should be made should not be south of Tulare.

Very respectfully,
(Signed) A. M. LAWRENCE,
Secretary.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 31.

T. E. Rowan, Chairman Board of Supervisors, Los Angeles County—DEAR SIR: For several weeks past the attention of our peoplehas been called to the dispatches appearing in our papers relative to the rapid spread of the smallpox in San Francisco. On the 29th inst., at a meeting of the Board of Health of that city, the board passed a resolution declaring the smallpox epidemic in that city, and stringent measures were ordered taken to fight the disease.

Self-preservation is the first law of nature, and the rule applies as well to committees as to individuals. I am directed, therefore, on the part of the directors of this board, through its president, Mr. Eugene Germain, to call your attention and that of your honorable board to the existing state of affairs in that city, and to suggest that it would be eminently prudent on the part of the Board of Supervisors to take immediate action to prevent, as far as practicable, the advent of that dread disease into our city, at least so far as it can be prevented from reaching us from San Francisco over the ordinary routes of travel, viz., via railroad and steamer.

Quarantine officers stationed at San Pedro and at Tulare, on the line of the Southern Pacific, would, in our opinion, be the least precaution that our community could take.

I am directed further to suggest that you call a special meeting of your board to take immediate action. Very respectfully,
(Signed) A. M. LAWRENCE,
Secretary Los Angeles Board of Trade.

AFTERMATH.

MORE SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA PLACES DESCRIBED.

Colton, Banning, Tustin, Elsinore, Eagle Rock Valley, and Their Surroundings—Notes of the Year's Progress in Each.

Colton is situated in the county of San Bernardino, at the junction of the Southern Pacific and California Southern (Santa Fé) railroads. It has a population of about 2000 people, most of whom are recent arrivals from the Eastern States. The place is noted for the refinement, intelligence and enterprise of its citizens, being quite free from the fossilized element which is retarding many of the neighboring towns of equal or nearly equal advantages. Colton was first laid out as a town about 10 years ago, and was at that time looked upon by shrewd business men as one of the most promising towns in Southern California. Its location at the mouth of the beautiful and fertile San Bernardino Valley, the excellence of its climate, water and soil—all of these conditions conspired to make the townsite selected one of great promise. Unfortunately, however, the insidnous seeds of suspicion and jealousy existed among the owners of the townsite, and, as was to be expected, this seed soon bore its legitimate fruitage of bitter and protracted litigation, casting a cloud on the title of the lands and involving the extensive and valuable water rights appurtenant to the townsite in an inexplicable maze. For many years this legal warfare was waged to the detriment of the parties themselves and the great injury of Colton. Such, however, were the advantages of the town that despite this unfortunate condition of affairs people bought and built, and the town slowly but steadily grew in population and importance. Laboring under its load of lawsuits for all of these years, is it not to be wondered at that the town has continued to exist at all? Fortunately for the place, the parties to these lawsuits at length arrived at the positive conviction that a settlement among themselves was beyond the range of possibility. Their only course, then, was to sell to a third and disinterested party; and this they did only last August. After settling all pending lawsuits and relinquishing all claims, one upon the other, the contesting parties joined in a deed of conveyance to an Oakland syndicate, who in their turn sold to the Western Development Company of San Francisco. It is well known that this powerful corporation and the Southern Pacific Railroad Company are practically one and the same. This fact, in connection with the recent surveys by the railroad company of a series of branches from Colton to San Bernardino, Redlands, Lugonia and Crafton, Riverside and San Jacinto, justifies the belief that the Southern Pacific Company proposes to make Colton its base of operations in Southern California. It may also prove to be more than a mere rumor that the company, lacking room in Los Angeles, and being cramped by the requirements of the City Council, proposes to remove its shops to Colton.

Immediately after the sal ofe the townsite to the railroad company another transaction of even greater importance occurred. This was the sale to the Viviendа Water Company, a powerful corporation of Los Angeles gentlemen, of the Meeks ranch water right. This famous ranch lies about three miles north of Colton, and is the surface outlet of a great subterranean river, the rumbling of which can actually be heard beneath the feet of a person standing at the northern edge of the ranch. There is no limit to this supply, and the Vivienda company has already made contracts aggregating thousands of inches of water which it is delivering for domestic use in Colton, and for irrigating purposes on the surrounding fruit lands. It has already put water on the magnificent fruit tract of the Orange Land and Water Company, just outside of the city, and is now delivering a large quantity to the Semi-Tropic Land and Water Company on the immense plain west of Colton. Three other water companies are now delivering water within Colton and daily increasing their supply. Their liquid commodity is derived entirely from artesian wells lying just to the northward of the city. All litigation being now at an end, no town in California has brighter prospects than Colton. Natural advantages of climate, soil and water supply existing concurrently with unequaled railroad facilities, and manufacturing enterprises of great moment are certain to make the place a great center of activity. Its strategic location on the two great competing lines of railroad gives Colton a commercial importance not to be despised. It is, in fact, a great railroad focus, having no less than 60 trains a day radiating to all points of the compass, and furnishes excellent facilities for traffic and travel. Being the natural outlet for a great fruit belt, it now ranks fourth among the cities of California in the amount of freight shipments. Its altitude of 1000 feet and its distance from the seashore give Colton comparative immunity from ocean fogs, cold winds and sudden changes, and bless the place with that delightful aridity and warmth of atmosphere which are the life and salvation of the sufferer from bronchial or pulmonary ailments, and make the city the very perfection of healthfulness. Then, also, the light sandy soil, excellent natural drainage and pure water render the town free alike from malaria in summer and mud in winter. Colton Terrace, a fine orange belt, lies partly within the city limits.

In July last Colton was incorporated as a city of the sixth class, and now insures to its people the safety and improvement possible only under a municipal government. Many good results of this are already apparent. Streets are being graded, sidewalks built and police regulations enforced.

During the past year the excellent schools of Colton have occupied the fine new brick schoolhouse, completed the preceding winter, at a cost of $25,000. No town of its size in the entire country has better schools than Colton. During the year many important additions have been made to the public library and reading-room.

The Colton Packing Company, incorporated last spring, has just closed its first and a most successful season. From 200 to 300 hands found employment in the cannery during the fruit season and over a quarter of a million cans of fruit were packed.

During the year also the Pioneer Lumber and Mill Company was organized, built a large and compete sash, door and blind factory, and went into full operation. This company is now doing an immense business. W. H. Perry of Los Angeles is its president.

Within the past year the Colton Lime Company increased its facilities from 150 barrels per day to 400 barrels, and yet its supply fails to equal the demand.

The discovery that Slover Mountain is a vast mass of the very finest onyx and sculptor's marble has led to the organization of the Colton Onyx Company and the expenditure of over $100,000 in machinery for quarrying, cutting and polishing this beautiful stone. The company has immense contracts in Los Angeles, San Diego and elsewhere, and is now employing a large number of skilled workmen in its efforts to meet its existing engagements.

Within the past three months Colton has experienced a veritable boom and great activity in real estate prevails. The city now has a national bank, a daily newspaper, a building and loan association, three excellent hotels, four churches, a public library, a wholesale grocery house, cannery, lime company, marble company, brickyard, planing mill, two lumber-yards, flour mill and many other important institutions.

A motor road now connects the city with San Bernardino, and a company with ex-Gov. Merrill of Iowa at its head, has just been formed for the purpose of building also to Rialto, Riverside, Crofton and Lugonia and other points. For this purpose iron had already been ordered for 40 miles of track. A franchise has also been granted for a street railroad within the city limits to be completed within six months. Work will begin at once.

BANNING.

The Gate City of Southern California—Its Growth.

Banning is situated in the San Gorgonia Valley, 90 miles east of Los Angeles, and is the gate city to California, on the Southern Pacific Railroad. The town nestles at the foot of Old Grayback Mountain, whose snow-capped summit guarantees an abundant water supply.

The colony consists of about 4000 acres of deep, rich, sandy loam, capable of producing all manner of fruit and vegetables.

The Banning Land Company has constructed a cement ditch up the water course, about ten miles through which there flows a constant stream of nearly 1000 inches of pure, clear water. I believe enough water can be developed and garnered to irrigate from Beaumont as far down the valley as the land is worth reclaiming.

The company has on the ground two or three carloads of iron pipe, and is anxiously awaiting the arrival of more, so as to enable it to put all in place, and give Banning one of the best systems of irrigation in the State. There are about 300 acres of vineyard, mostly yielding heavily. There are also about 20 acres of blackberries, whose owner tells me the yield has been beyond his most sanguine expectations. There are nearly 500 acres planted in fruit of different kinds. Even a few orange trees planted three years since have grown luxuriously—not even the breath of frost having passed upon them.

There are two hotels constantly filled with guests, who have come from the citrus belts of Illinois, Minnesota and Canada to recruit their wasted forms and regain health in this delightful climate.

There are two groceries and one dry goods store. Trade is quiet.

At an auction sale in October near $100,000 worth of real estate changed hands. Many of the purchasers propose building fine residences, and some fine business houses will be erected as soon as brick can be burned and other material obtained. The company has reserved a choice lot, on which it proposes to erect a hotel of not less than 100 rooms and of magnificent architecture.

TUSTIN.

One of the Best of the Santa Ana Valley Towns.

This beautiful suburban town is situated about 33 miles from Los Angeles, in the Santa Ana Valley. With a population of 1000 people, Tustin is one of the most lovely spots to be found in Southern California. Essentially a city of homes, embowered in orange groves and vineyards, with her streets lined and shaded by the graceful pepper tree or the stately eucalyptus and poplar, with evergreen hedges inclosing every dwelling, a more lovely or picturesque spot cannot be found.

Settled in 1870 by an energetic and cultivated class of eastern people, it has grown rapidly, and is today one of the most thriving towns of California.

The town covers a large territory, being divided into 5, 10 and 20-acre tracts, and growing every variety of citrus and deciduous fruit in abundance.

The buildings are of modern architecture, and many new and handsome residences have been built during the past year, among which may be noted Sherman Stevens' elegant cottage, costing $6000; George Case's two-story dwelling, $4000; Kendall's, $3500. A fine hotel building, recently sold for $40,000, is now ready for occupancy. Plans are being drawn for a brick bank building to cost $12,000, which will be rapidly pushed to completion. Several business-houses have been built and occupied during the past year.

Tustin is connected with Santa Ana by street railway, and will soon be made the main station on the Southern Pacific Railroad for this section.

The California Central also passes through the town.

The business houses are: C. D. Scholl & Co., general merchandise; L. Utt, general merchandise; Andrew Getty & Co., dry goods and groceries; Tustin City drug store; R. Fairbanks & Co., real estate and insurance; J. H. Cain, M. D., physician and surgeon; W. H. Shaw, bakery and restaurant; C. W. Fosdick, meat market.

The Episcopalian, Presbyterian and Adventist societies have each neat and commodious church buildings.

A handsome public-school building graces the landscape, affording ample school facilities for all.

The Independent Order of Odd Fellows has a flourishing lodge.

An academy under the auspices of the Protestant Episcopal Church has been in successful operation during the past season, and a suitable building will soon be erected at a cost of $5000.

Land in the vicinity is held at reasonable figures, and can be had in quantities to suit all comers. The town is contiguous to the San Joaquin ranch, which is soon to be subdivided into 5, 10, 20 and 40-acre tracts and placed on the market. There are fully 40,000 acres of this land, capable of the highest cultivation.

EAGLE ROCK.

A Delightful Valley with a Picturesque Name.

This beautiful little valley is situated six miles north of the city of Los Angeles, and two miles west of Pasadena. It is one of the most fertile and picturesque valleys in all this southern country. It is crowned with a large rock as large as a mountain, on which is engraved by the hand of Nature a huge eagle, with wide-spread wings, as if proclaiming the superiorities of our charming little valley. From this rock our locality derives its name.

It is surprising how long the soil here retains its moisture. We plant our vegetables after all the rains are over, and they mature and reach perfection without any irrigation. Our fruits and flowers are inferior to none, irrigation being unnecessary for anything except oranges. We have the most perfect climate in the world—no frost at any time. Tomatoes ripen the year round. One producer sold $150 worth of tomatoes from one acre, and he will sell from the same vines all winter.

Our steam dummy line, which is being rapidly built from the city of Los Angeles to run through our valley will be completed within 60 day. A hundred foot boulevard is being constructed between Los Angeles and Pasadena, and it runs through the entire length of our valley, which will make our land bring Pasadena prices soon.

Eagle Rock is settling up very fast and with a good class of people. Land here is much cheaper than it is in any other direction from the city.

We have artesian wells at a depth of 70 feet, and we also get a plenty of fine mountain water by tunneling into the mountains 60 feet. We have fine water in quality and abundance for all purposes.

Good land can be bought at for $600 to $1000 per acre. E. G.

ELSINORE.

Remarkable Development of a New San Diego Town.

Where the summer breezes linger
In the bosom of December,
And the winter cometh never,
Nevermore:

There the peaceful dwellings cluster
By the mountains and the water,
By the healing, soothing water—
Elsinore.

GARDNER.

Elsinore is a familiar name. Among the leading and progressive places of Southern California, "the Lake City" is destined to hold its place. Her healthful influences and beautiful situation are alone sufficient to invite a large population. Her mineral springs, nearly 200 in number, with their wonderful curative properties, should insure a second Saratoga, with health and pleasure-seekers bowing at her shrine. Her coal and bituminous shale mines are attracting the attention of manufacturers and the whole country. Her clays, from the finest porcelain to a brick clay, will bring an immense industry and revenue into her midst. Various minerals are found in sufficient quantities to pay for working. Her soil and climate, not surpassed in the world, will produce all the varieties of fruits, grains and vegetables grown in Southern California, and with profit. In a word, no region in the whole State can boast of a better material backing—one which in the very nature of things will make her a wealthy and leading valley and city.

Elsinore is about midway between Los Angeles and San Diego, on the California Southern Railway. It is on the direct line of travel, via the Santa Fé route, from the East to the coast. The Southern Pacific has surveyed a line through the valley, which will be the short, quick line of transit between the two chief cities of the south. The Pomona and Elsinore Railway is being built, and the survey of the line known as

The Elsinore and San Diego is being made. The motor line of railway from the California Southern Railway depot to Elsinore City, North Elsinore, Terra Cotta City, Lacerne, etc., is being built. The electric railway around the lake is chartered, and will be built in the near future.

The only lake worthy the name in Southern California is located here, a body of water 16 miles in circumference. The lake and mountain scenery cannot be surpassed in the world. It is the "Como of America." This lake is 1280 feet above the sea level, and 17 miles from the Pacific Coast. A steamer and sailing craft are at the disposal of pleasure-seekers.

The progress of the year past is wonderful. The population has trebled in that time. There is probably 1500 in the town and 2500 in the valley. There are two banks, handsome schoolhouses and fine business blocks, with fine residences. The residence of F. H. Heald, the father of the valley, is a beautiful structure. The hotels are excellent. The finest bathhouse in the State is just completed. The pottery and tile works contain all modern improvements in the art of clay moulding. The nail works, to cost $250,000, are to be built at once. The introduction of a water system is fast being completed.

The Lake Elsinore Valley Improvement Company is doing a wonderful work in the way of development. In fact, the tide of progress is rapidly onward on all sides, and it is safe to predict that Elsinore will have a population of 5000 January 1, 1889.

HO, YE!

Are You Weary and Heavy Laden? Come and Take a Rest.

Farmers, tired of ploughing and sowing in rocky and sterile soils, where your early crops are liable to be nipped by the frosts, and your summer harvests to wither from drought and parching heats, come to this frostless land, where the soil laughs with fatness, and the earth brings forth her increase of an hundred fold; where sultry heat is almost unknown, and every month of the whole year is a harvest month, making glad the farmer's heart and filling his barns with plenty.

Invalids, who in the long months of eastern winters are entombed in furnace-heated houses, breathing hot and vitiated air, with doors shut tight against the cold and frost, come to Southern California, where all the year your windows may be open to the sunshine and your doors flung wide to the pure, life-giving air; where birds sing from January to December, and bees gather honey from the flowers while the old year passes. Here you may have a long year's life out of days and gather health and healing from the balmy atmosphere and never-failing sunshine.

Unto this land of the afternoon, ye who are old and weary, come for rest and comfort. It is a land of sunshine, of balmy airs, of luscious fruits and fragrant flowers. Every day invites you into its sunshine, where you may gather strength for your declining years, and your evening's close be free from physical ill such as spring from harsh climatic changes and the discomforts of wintry cold. You may live out of doors, and Nature will soothe you with her charms and strengthen you with the tonic of her delightful atmosphere.

Painters and poets, ye who love the grand and beautiful in Nature, here is her noblest page unfolded for your delight. Mountains whose snowy crests are pillowed upon the clouds; lower sierra heights lifting their mighty walls, glorious in ever-changing lights and shadows; shining uplands stretching into purpling distances; broad, prairie-like valleys, orchard and vineyard clad; level plains, with billowy seas of grain and harvest of corn; deep rock-walled cañons, ploughed by Nature's unseen forces, and buttressed with gigantic boulders, with stoney domes and granite spires, musical with running streams, and gay with laughing waters. On every hillside a garden of blossoming wild-flowers; in every valley the colors of the rainbow spread in unnumbered blossoms; along our shores the calm blue sea, shining like living crystal, and over all the infinite blue of unclouded skies lighted by the sun of our eternal summer.

C. W. Youngman has bought 20 acres at the terminus of the Pomona Heights street car line and intends building a large observatory upon it. The site is an excellent one for such a building and commands a view of the entire Pomona valley from Riverside to the San Jose hills.

THE reception that is being accorded by the public to the Annual Trade Number of THE TIMES is hearty and flattering. The paper goes off like inflamed tortillas. It is the newsboys' harvest.

THERE is a manifest increase in the attendance upon our churches generally. Temporal prosperity does not appear to have the effect of making the people of this community forgetful of higher concerns.

THE Council has yet to dispose of the vexed question, "Who shall we make Chief of Police?" Gentlemen, it is for you to decide; but you may look far and long before you get so good a man as iron-nerved, cool-headed and incorruptible Dunlap.

THE first day of the new year has come and gone, fair as the summer days of an eastern June. May we not rightly consider that Nature in California is Nature regenerate, while at the East it is Nature depraved? And what an infinite scope of distance there is between the two.

WE observe a tendency on the part of "the other fellows" to boast about their New Year's issues; but the verdict of the discriminating public is, as usual, that THE TIMES got out a much finer paper than emanated from the bucket-shops across the way, run by our loathsome and hated rivals.

THE attention of the police is called to the crowd of drunks hanging out at the corner of First and Main streets. It is almost impossible to get through the place after night, and the language heard is so vile that ladies will only pass by the place when they have to. This is one of the principal corners in the city, and should be kept clear of disreputable characters.

AMONG other matters crowded out of yesterday's plethoric TIMES was the usual weekly summary of social news, the army budget, a couple of good illustrations, several sketches of towns, some special articles, a long list of buildings and a number of advertisements. When a paper gets to leaving out new advertisements, it is bound to offend the ablest editors in the service of any journal's counting-room.

THE new and fast plate perfecting press purchased for the use of THE TIMES, which was fully described in yesterday's issue, is now en route from New York, and within a few days' run of Los Angeles. R. Hoe & Co.'s machinist, Mr. Charles T. Stewart, sent out to put up the machine, has already arrived here.

In the army budget, which will be found on another page, is a synopsis of the court-martial proceedings resulting in the conviction and sentence of the mutinous Indian scouts at San Carlos. The court sent the Indian mutineers up for life; but Gen. Nelson A. Miles, commanding (the reviewing officer), has reduced the terms of sentence, knocking off several years in each case. We presume these soldados colorados with the hyphenated names and rebellious spirits are now sorry that they enlisted. The white man's court-martial is a sure-shot device that is rather too much for the guileless nature of the average Arizona aborigine.

Some Comments on Comments.

It is somewhat surprising that an intelligent magazine like the Atlantic monthly should not be sufficiently advised in regard to the rapid growth and marvelous development of Southern California to appreciate the fact that an article written in regard to this country a year ago for its pages, is far behind today in all that pertains to the life and activity of this section. Of the climate, soil, productions and general features, a correct statement will hold true, but the picture of improvements, population, caravansaries, railroads and such like advancement will lack very much in completeness, and, therefore, is not the correct thing to give to the reading public, eager and anxious to learn all about this section of California.

For instance, in his article in the January number of the Atlantic, entitled "The Golden Hesperides," Charles Dudley Warner says, in speaking of Santa Barbara: "The railway has not yet reached it." And yet almost six months have passed since, with a grand jubilee, Santa Barbara celebrated the advent of the iron horse, which placed her in close connection with the outside world. This contribution from the pen of Mr. Warner is, on the whole, a pretty fair representation of semi-tropical California, although there are a few errors in it, such as are natural for one making but a short stay in the country to fall into. Mr. Warner could not have tarried long in Los Angeles, or he never would have penned the following sentence: "I doubt if it is ever pleasant to sit out-of-doors or on the piazzas at night, though it may be in the hotter months, in the Southern portions." Life upon the piazza is a universal thing in this section. The broad veranda is the favorite place for spending the evening hours. On moonlighted nights no spot could be lovelier to sit, and the air, except in the cooler months of the rainy season, is free from chill and filled with the delicious odor of flowers.

Of Los Angeles Mr. Warner writes: "It is a splendid place for invalids. The country was full of them. It will be fuller yet if Los Angeles, lovely city of angels, growing like asparagus in a hotbed, already with 50,000 people, and maybe 10,000 more in the season, trying to find a night's lodging, yet never having had the least time to pay attention to ordinary sanitary precautions, does not speedily design some system of drainage."

In this connection the writer fails to state the fact that a large proportion of the "invalids" to be found in Los Angeles are those who come here from the East in search of health; also that the average death rate of this city is smaller than that of almost any other city in the country, a fact which we satisfactorily demonstrated in yesterday's issue by quotations from our health officer's report for 1887; also that a system of sewerage is under consideration which will involve the expenditure of at least $1,000,000. In addition, since this article was written immigration has been pouring in a constant tide of population upon us, and the permanent residents of Los Angeles number now, at the very lowest estimate, 65,000 people.

The introduction to "The Golden Hesperides" of Mr. Warner is somewhat facetious. He says:

"It has been a subject of regret ever since that I did not buy Southern California when I was there last March. . . . There is not much of it, little more than what you may call a strip of irrigated sand between the Mojave Desert and the Pacific Ocean."

"Not much of it!" Excluding the desert and waste portions, which with water would become productive, there are more than 10,000 square miles of as fair and productive territory as can be found anywhere upon the face of the earth, lying upon the sunny Pacific Slope, between the coast mountains and the sea—a region of orange groves and of vineyards; of vast fiel ls of corn and grain; of unnumbered orchards of temperate and other fruits; of growing towns and cities, with extensive fertile tracts awaiting subdivisions into small farms, and capable of supporting hundreds of thousands of home-seekers, who have turned away from more barren soil and less hospitable climate.

But Mr. Warner speaks appreciatively when he says:

"There is but one California in the world. There is nowhere else to go in the winter. Travelers who have been in Southern Italy, in North Africa, in Sicily, in Florida, in Greece, in Madeira, in Jamaica, in Bogata, in the piney woods, are perfectly open in telling you this. There is no climate like it. There is nothing that will grow anywhere in the world—except, perhaps, certain great staples—that will not grow there in greater abundance and perfection—oranges, lemons, limes, peaches, nectarines, grapes, figs, almonds, olives, Madeira nuts, every edible vegetable known to woman. The region should be content to be its glorious self, and unlike any other part of the United States."

Strikes and Lockouts.

Col. Carroll D. Wright, Commissioner of the National Bureau of Labor, has just issued a report on strikes and lockouts in the United States. The report covers a period of four years, 1832 to 1886, and presents some very interesting facts.

Among other things, it is shown that strikes and lockouts are very unprofitable, as well as very unsatisfactory, things with which to attempt the settlement of misunderstandings between capital and labor.

Even when the strike or lockout wins, the victory rarely, if ever, represents above 25 cents a day per capita, while the loss entailed by the method of winning is always so large that a generation's constant and uninterrupted receipt of the small diurnal advance gained could not equal it. For instance, in 1884 the machinists and boilermakers of San Francisco struck, and were partially successful. Now, the machinists and boilermakers of San Francisco are a small body of men, yet their partially-successful strike cost the strikers $48,000, and cost the employers $62,000—$110,000 in all.

Another curious thing brought out by Col. Wright's report is the fact that, as a whole, the great bulk of loss entailed by strikes and lockouts falls upon the workers. During the time covered by the investigation the loss to the strikers is shown to have been $31,816,165, while the loss to the employers for the same period through lock outs amounted to $8,182,717. In 1885 the iron-workers of San Francisco struck and succeeded, but the strike cost the strikers $27,691, while it cost the employers only $6950. Verily, the strike is not a success even when it succeeds.

Save the Boys!

Los Angeles may well rejoice that among her many other benevolent institutions she has, with the opening of the new year, a Boys' Home, where the poor and neglected waifs of humanity may be gathered in and cared for. Many are the boys here in Los Angeles who have found their rest at night in empty boxes, or in the hallways of business houses—little homeless Arabs learning the lessons of life upon the streets, becoming accustomed to vice, going hungry and unkempt, needing care and counsel, yet growing up like wild weeds by the wayside. Such a home as this just organized may reach hundreds of street wanderers and take them out of the way of temptation.

The philanthropy which reaches out to help homeless and untaught children is the wisest that can be extended to the needy. It is sowing the seed that will bring the largest harvest of good. Care for the children of the State, and bring them up to honest ways, and you cut off the sources from which the criminal ranks are recruited. Gather the neglected boys into a pleasant home, and care for them and bring them under restraining and kindly influences, and you save just so many from the houses of correction and the jail's and prisons of the State. Such an institution should not lack the means necessary to its success.

Postage.

Purchasers of the New Year's issue of THE TIMES (five sheets, 20 pages,) should bear in mind that the postage is two (2) cents per copy, and put on the proper stamp before mailing the paper. In the past many papers have been held at the postoffice for lack of postage. Persons who desire 10 or more copies to send abroad can have the same mailed from this office, free of postage, by sending or handing in the proper addresses, with the purchase price, viz., 10 cents per copy. Where a less number than 10 copies is bought, the purchaser pays the postage.

MAYOR WORKMAN is seriously thinking of quarantining against San Francisco, and, unless there is a very decided change for the better in the smallpox situation in that city, it is more than likely it will be declared early this week. Last winter, when the smallpox broke out here, the opportunity was at once taken to shut down on Los Angeles, and that, too, when there was no such necessity for this action as now exists, as there never was at any time during the prevalence of the disease in this city one-third as many cases as there are now in San Francisco. The Mayor and health authorities are fully alive to the danger, and are taking all necessary measures to prevent the introduction of smallpox into this city. Every train from the north is met by inspectors, and, in case any persons are found with the disease, they will be at once isolated. The Mayor does not wish to go too fast in the matter, but does not care to jeopardise the health of the city, and will at once close the gates against San Francisco when, in his judgment, such action is demanded for the public good.

THE fact cannot be too frequently or too strongly insisted upon that many sections of Southern California are equally attractive as summer or winter resorts. There are not, on an average, six days in a year of over 90° temperature in Los Angeles. Near the coast one can wear a heavy coat all day with comfort in the middle of summer, and the nights in every portion of Southern California are always cool. In this fact lies the vast superiority of California over Florida and other winter resorts.

WHO says this is not a manufacturing country? Out of such simple raw materials as fertile soil and persistent sunshine we have manufactured orange groves, ostrich farms, electric railroads, mammoth hotels and a thousand other wonderful things.

THE telephone system of Los Angeles is extensive. Besides reaching over the whole city, it connects us with Riverside, San Bernardino, San Diego and other intermediate towns.

INVALIDS should not wait too long before they come here. Even our wonderful climate is powerless to revive a corpse.

THE visitor to Los Angeles will find a noticeable and pleasant absence of such insect pests as mosquitoes and bedbugs, which render life at some of the eastern resorts a protracted torment.

AMUSEMENTS.

GRAND OPERA-HOUSE.—Morrison and his California Theater Company closed their engagement last night. This is the first time that the theater has been opened on a Sunday evening, and Mr. Wyatt says it will be the last.

HAZARD'S PAVILION.—The Webster-Brady Company produced The Two Orphans last night. The same play will be given at the matinée today and in the evening.

New Year's Calls.

Referring to the list published in yesterday's TIMES of ladies who will keep open house "on New Year's day," it is understood that, when not otherwise specified, the day meant was today (Monday).

The following announcements for New Year's callers were received yesterday:

Mrs. C. W. Hasson, 529 South Spring street, will receive today, assisted by her daughter May, Miss Susie Corbell and Laura Chavian, from 2 to 8 p.m.

Mrs. E. F. Spence regrets that, owing to indisposition, she will have to forego the pleasure of receiving her friends on New Year's day, as she had intended.

At home, New Year's day, the Young Men's Christian Association, at the rooms, 212 West Second street, from 1:30 to 9:30 p.m. The Ladies' Auxiliary, assisted by the reception committee, will be present to receive calls from young men. Music during day and evening.

A Fine View.

A roadway is being constructed to the top of Elysian Heights, and the summit will be reached in a few days, affording easy access to one of the finest views in or about Los Angeles. The ocean can be distinctly seen at three places, also Pasadena and many other places are in sight, the whole forming a beautiful landscape panorama.

The Prison Rules to Be Changed—An Old Employe Dismissed.

Fatal Smash-Up on the California and Oregon Road.

Pomona Votes to Incorporate as a City—San Francisco Ship Builders Deny That They Are Using Bad Steel for the Cruisers, Etc.

By Telegraph to The Times.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 1.—[By the Associated Press.] Gen. McComb assumed full charge as warden of San Quentin Prison today, and ex-Warden Shirley left for his home in Martinez. The new officers have not yet supplied themselves with uniforms, although they entered upon the discharge of their duties at midnight on Saturday. The early train brought the warden's retinue from Folsom, consisting of a cook, gardener and the warden's clerk. This corps of assistants is composed of convicts, but they have such perfect knowledge of the General's habits and requirements that they have become indispensable servants to him, and were transferred from Folsom to the San Quentin Penitentiary.

Some of the rules relative to convicts will be changed. Everything tending to point toward discrimination and favoritism of convicts will be abolished. The custom has prevailed heretofore to allow some prisoners to dress in citizen's clothes with the exception of trousers. Delicacies sent by relatives or friends were given them, and they were given the privilege of adorning and beautifying their cells. In this manner well-to-do convicts were deprived of but few luxuries of daily life. The new régime will put a stop to this practice, and hereafter all convicts will be dressed in the full regulation suit of striped clothes, and all will receive the same food. It is also intended to abolish visitors' day, now fixed for the first Sunday of each month, and instead, to allow visitors to see convicts during certain hours of each day.

Capt. Sullivan, for 14 years captain of the night guards, was informed that his services were no longer required. Capt. Fredson, formerly gatekeeper, has been appointed steward in the place of Frank McCracken, and P. H. Maloney was installed as gatekeeper of the lower gate.

SAN FRANCISCO.

An Ejected Caller Uses His Revolver with Fatal Effect.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 1.—[By the Associated Press.] A young man named James Eagan entered a lodging-house in the northern part of the city this afternoon and tried to pick a quarrel with William E. Aubray, who lived in the house. Aubray pushed the man out of the house. When the latter reached the pavement he drew a revolver and fired through the door, the ball striking Aubray in the abdomen, inflicting a wound which will probably prove fatal. Eagan was arrested.

THE COREANS LANDED.

The Corean Embassy, which arrived here on the steamer Oceanic, December 28th, were landed today, the quarantine having been removed from that vessel, and will proceed to Washington on Wednesday or Thursday next.

SMALLPOX.

Three smallpox patients were sent to the hospital today. Genaro Garcia, aged 23 years, taken to the hospital a few days ago, died there today.

FLOATING IN THE BAY.

It is stated that a boatman named Black says that on Saturday afternoon he saw a dead body floating in the bay, but, having three passengers aboard his boat at the time, he was unable to recover it. It is supposed to be the body of John Treman, who committed suicide by jumping off the Oakland boat 11 days ago. Another search will be made for the body when the bay is smoother.

The condition of W. H. Mills, land agent of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company, has not improved since last Saturday. Dr. Henry Gibbons, one of the physicians in attendance, visited him this morning, and expressed hopes of his recovery.

HACKED WITH A HATCHET.

John Hill was found lying on the street by Officer Shea early this morning, and was conveyed to the hospital. His left jaw was cut entirely away and the muscles severed. Evidently some one struck him with a hatchet. The man not having recovered consciousness, nothing can be learned as to the origin of the trouble. It is thought he may die.

THAT STEEL STORY.

The Washington Report About the New Cruisers Denied.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 1.—[By the Associated Press.] Regarding the reported discovery of grave defects in the steel intended to be used in the construction of the cruiser Charleston, and the snapping of several heavy steel deck beams during an attempt to slightly bend them, mentioned in the Washington dispatches last night, the Alta today publishes an interview with George W. Prescott, president of the Union Iron Works, in which he said:

"I have heard of no accident of that kind at our shipyards. Had such a thing happened it is more than probable I should have heard of it. The steel used in the construction of the Charleston has all successfully stood the Government test. There is a corps of Government officials here who superintend and inspect all work done on the crusier. I do not think there is any foundation for the report. It would not have been surprising if some of the steel showed a slight defect while being worked, but that could not be considered as a very startling feature. The steel for deck beams was manufactured by Andrew Carnegie at Pittsburgh, Pa., and was thoroughly tested right there at the works. All the material made here, such as wrought iron, cast iron and steel, is also severely tested by Lieut. Gilmore, the local inspector. The steel now being put into the Charleston is of as good a quality as was ever put into a vessel."

Concerning the work on the Charleston, Mr. Prescott said that satisfactory progress was being made, but the works are behind time on account of the delay in getting sufficient material from the East. The vessel will probably be launched in February instead of January, as expected.

ILL-FATED FIREMEN.

Two Killed by an Accident on the Oregon and California.

PORTLAND (Or.), Jan. 1.—[By the Associated Press.] The San Francisco express, which left Portland on Saturday afternoon, met with a serious accident this morning about 3 o'clock, resulting in the death of Sandy Van Buren, a fireman, and Robert Roberts, also a locomotive firemen, who was on the train at the time. When six miles north of Riddle's the locomotive ran into a small land-slide. The jar caused by the collision brought down a perfect avalanche of earth and stones, completely burying the engine. The tender, on which the unfortunate firemen were, was upset just as Roberts and Van Buren leaped out. Both were caught under it and instantly killed. Their bodies were badly mangled. The accident will cause nearly 20 hours' delay to trains. Meantime a transfer of mails, passengers and express will be made. A special locomotive was sent out to bring in the dead bodies. No one else was injured.

Buried by a Snowslide.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 1.—The Examiner's special from Salt Lake says: Late yesterday afternoon Jim Madden and James Baxter started to walk from Park City on the trail to the Rochester mine, in the Snake Creek district. They had proceeded about four miles, when a snowslide occurred, crossing the trail and burying Baxter. Madden immediately went for assistance, and a force of men began the work of rescue at once. Although the men worked all last night and today, so far as heard the victim had not been found. Baxter is an old Californian and Nevada miner.

Sunday Sport at El Paso.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 1.—The Examiner's special from El Paso says: Fifteen hundred people, 300 of them eastern excursionists bound for California, witnessed a bull fight at Paso del Norte today. One bull, of six introduced into the ring, was killed; also one of the horses of the bull-fighters.

The Nichols-St. Clair prize fight was prevented by the police, but will come off tomorrow in the ring.

Utah's Mineral Product.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 1.—The Chronicle's special from Salt Lake says: Wells, Fargo & Co.'s statement of the mineral product of Utah for 1887 shows the total export value to be $7,637,729. Computing the gold and silver at mint valuation, and other metals at their seaboard valuation, would increase the value of the product.

WITH GIANT STRIDES.

How California Has Progressed During the Past Year—The Southern Boom at Last Acknowledged.

By Telegraph to The Times.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 1.—[By the Associated Press.] The Chronicle's 82-page New Year's edition contains an exhaustive review of the commercial and industrial prosperity of the State in general during the past year, and also of the several counties and of the fruit industry. The increase in 1887 of the export trade in green fruit is given as at least 33⅓ per cent. over that of 1886, and it states that more than double the amount of green deciduous fruit was shipped east than in 1886. Of canned fruit and vegetables, the output of the various canneries in 1886 is given as 659,950 cases, while in 1887 it was 888,900, or, allowing an average of 45 pounds to the case, 40,000,000 pounds. The great increase of the dried fruit product during the year was in the articles of peaches sun dried, grapes, nectarines and apricots. The yield of wine was not so large as that of 1886, but closer attention has been given to the production of a few good brands, and the distillation of brandy has taken a decided step forward. The exports by sea and rail in 1886 were nearly 6,500,000 gallons, last year they slightly exceeded these figures, and the home consumption rose to 6,000,000 gallons. The market represents a total of 12,000,000 gallons.

The raisin output for the year was nearly 20,000,000 pounds, against 14,000,000 in 1886. The export to eastern points was about two and a quarter times as large as the Malaga importations at these points.

GREAT GRAIN CROPS.

Though the acreage in wheat was not so great last year as in 1882, and though the crop did not quite equal that of the bonanza year, it came close to that of 1886, which was in turn one of the great yields of the country. The barley crop last year was fully 40,000,000 bushels, the barley being of quality that gives it the first place in the exchanges of the world.

Of quicksilver 552,397 pounds were exported during the year, valued at $247,686.

The fisheries represent an annual value of not less than $6,700,000. The wool product was 90,000,000 pounds.

The estimate of the gold and silver production for the coast gives California the second place, with $30,000,000, as against Colorado's product of $37,000,000. The increase here is astonishing, for, while the increase of the product of 1886 was $4,000,000 over that of 1885, the increase of 1887 over 1886 is nearly $14,000,000.

PETROLEUM AND GAS.

In 1879, 568,000 gallons of petroleum was produced. The yield in 1887 was 12,400,000 gallons. Side by side with the increase of the petroleum production comes the discovery of natural gas at Santa Ana, Stockton, Santa Barbara, and in many other localities, and cheap fuel is already looked on as an accomplished fact.

Of the climate of California, its practical value is given in the statement that in Chicago or New York a bricklayer can work at his trade but about six months in the year; here he can work the whole year. The plasterer can work not to exceed seven months, a roofer less than six months, and the clothing required there is more than double what is necessary to secure warmth here. Nearly every article of food grown on the continent is cheaper in California than in any other State in the Union, because more of it is produced by the same amount of labor.

THE SOUTHERN BOOM.

Of the "boom" it says: "The practical value of climate was never more strongly exemplified than in the case of Southern California, and here it would be pertinent to state that the people of the northern counties of the State, who have been inclined to sneer at Southern California, hardly realize what a short-sighted policy this is. The fact is that the Southern California boom is the little leaven which is fast leavening the whole State. The entire State, in fact, owes a lasting debt of gratitude to the enterprising people of Southern California. They have at last justified to the comprehension of the world the superiority of our claims; have removed forever the leading obstacle to the rapid growth and development of California, and have established a great tide of immigration which will not ebb until the great resources of this country have received that development which in all time has awaited the awakening influences of intelligence and enterprise."

Modesto Matters.

MODESTO, Jan. 1.—The lady who died suddenly on the train at Antioch last evening proved to be Mrs. Orphia Woodward of Hills Ferry, this county, a housekeeper in the employ of Mr. Weldman, in San Francisco. She was on her way home when her sudden death occurred. The deceased was aged 65 years, and leaves two grown sons at Hills Ferry. The funeral takes place at Modesto on Tuesday.

Causing Fearful Loss of Life—Some Victims Burned to Death.

Cleveland and Carlisle Say the Pacific Roads Must Pay Up.

A Baltimore Man Murders His Mother in a Fit of Drunken Fury—A Colored Congregation Goes Through the Church Floor—Several Killed.

By Telegraph to The Times.

LEXINGTON (Ky.), Jan. 1.—[By the Associated Press.] The collision on the Cincinnati Southern road, near Greenwood, Ky., on a 60-foot embankment, reported briefly last night, is now known to have resulted in the death of the following persons: Lee Withrow, baggage-master; James Severens, postal clerk; T. C. Candee, fireman; Lawrence Collan, baggage-master; W. B. Powell, express messenger, and Miss Jessie Green of Chattanooga, a passenger. Fifteen persons, passengers and train hands, whose names have not been secured, are known to have been seriously, and some of them fatally, injured. In addition, the north-bound train this evening carried to Cincinnati five or six injured passengers. The railroad officials here refused the Associated Press reporters access to them, and would not give their names.

The collision was caused by Conductor Shruman misreading the orders delivered him at Winfield. He mistook Summit for Summerset, and hurried the train down the grade at 50 miles an hour to make that point.

Conductor Bennett ran up to Shruman after the collision, and said, "I'm not to blame for this; read your orders and see."

Shruman took out his orders, and, looking at them, threw up his hand and exclaimed, "Oh, my God! I've made a mistake."

The baggage car and smoker of train No. 9 rolled down the embankment, and the various ladies' car was thrown on the engine, the inmates being thereby scalded. The two engines collided with such force that they were virtually welded together, and could not be pulled apart today.

SEVERAL BURNED TO DEATH.

LOUISVILLE, Jan. 1.—A special to the Courier-Journal from Somerset, Ky., says: A correspondent visited the scene of the wreck this morning. There is no doubt that several persons were burned to death. A number of charred bodies were found where the smoking car of No. 1 was burned. Innumerable telegrams are passing over the wires inquiring for relatives or friends on the fatal train, and a number of the passengers inquired after cannot be found. Early this morning the charred remains of what is supposed to be Fireman Candee were dragged out of the débris. The only thing left unburned was his boots.

CLEVELAND TO SELECT.

Carlisle Will Not Choose the House Railway Committee.

CHICAGO, Jan. 1.—[By the Associated Press.] A Washington special to the Inter Ocean says: It is understood that Speaker Carlisle has left to the President to make up the Committee on Pacific Railroads, as both gentlemen are determined that something shall be done this session toward securing a settlement between the Government and the roads on some sort of a basis.

The trouble with committees generally is that in this railroad subject they are divided in opinion, just as these Pacific road commissioners are in their report. Messrs. Crisp and Outhwaite could probably have gained as much information as the commission has by an investigation of their own. It is said that they are being backed up unanimously by the Railroad Committee of the House. There is no doubt of one thing, however, and that is that Cleveland and Carlisle will see to it that the new committee will be composed of men in accord with the majority of the commission.

WILL NOT STRIKE.

The Men at Reading Say They Will Not Go Out.

READING (Pa.), Jan. 1.—[By the Associated Press.] Today an informal meeting of representatives from the Knights of Labor assemblies in this city, whose membership consists principally of Reading Railroad employés, was held here. The situation was again fully discussed, and it was given out as the sentiment of the employés that under no circumstances would they strike, because they considered it impolitic, and on the ground that it would not help along the cause of the Knights of Labor. A number of assemblies in neighboring towns telegraphed here that they would be guided by the action of the Reading assemblies.

A quantity of freight and 1800 cars of coal passed through today. About 80 men were employed here today and sent to Port Richmond to take the places of strikers.

THE BOOMERS.

They Expect to Take Peaceful Possession of Oklahoma.

GENDA SPRINGS (Kan.), Jan. 1.—[By the Associated Press.] The Herald announces that Genda Springs is the headquarters of the Oklahoma movement, and adds:

"We are authorized to say that there is no movement, either concealed or open, looking to the invasion of the Territory. All the Oklahoma boomers ask is that Congress shall act, and act promptly, and that the President shall respect and comply with the law requiring him to appoint a commission to treat with the Indians for the lands."

MURDERED HIS MOTHER.

Shocking Crimes of a Drunken Baltimore Brute.

BALTIMORE (Md.), Jan. 1.—[By the Associated Press.] Stephen Conroy and Patrick O'Donnell were drinking together for some hours last night at the home of the former, and about midnight a quarrel took place, in which O'Donnell was badly beaten and thrown out of the house. Shortly after he was found unconscious in the street and taken home, when he accused Conroy with assaulting him. The police went to arrest Conroy and found that he had killed his aged mother with an axe. The room in which the murder was committed presented a horrible appearance, the walls being splashed with blood. O'Donnell was so badly beaten that he is almost certain to die. Conroy was still under the influence of liquor when arrested.

Dynamite the Probable Cause.

NEW YORK, Jan. 1.—The cause of the explosion at the Equitable Gas-light Company's works last night is still shrouded in mystery. It was at first supposed that the explosion was caused by the accumulation of escaping gas. It is now rumored that a dynamite bomb was thrown into the engine-house. Three minutes before the explosion no escaping gas was perceptible. All connections of the engines and pumps leading to the storage pipes and the purifying-house are intact.

A Government Charged with Theft.

ST. PAUL (Minn.), Jan. 1.—A Winnipeg special to the Pioneer Press says: Some time ago the Free Press charged the Norquay Government had misappropriated some $60,000 belonging to a half-breed minor. This the Government denied. The same paper will tomorrow publish the affidavit of Arthur Sylvan that he was authorized to collect this claim, but had his check refused repeatedly. Bank officials state that the funds were withdrawn by Government, the checks being signed by Hamilton, the new premier. Interesting developments are expected.

Sportive Kentucky Youths.

LOUISVILLE (Ky.), Jan. 1.—At Paris, Ky., last night, two white boys were shaved at a dance of black people, and were put out of the house. BORDER BANDITS.

Three More Murders Committed by Bernal's Band—The Gang to Be Captured, Dead or Alive.

By Telegraph to The Times.

NOGALES (Ariz.), Jan. 1.—[By the Associated Press.] The following account is given of the killing, a few days ago, of Santiago Rojas, his son Francisco and grandson Manuel, near the rancho de Navajo, on the road to Ventanos, at which place Leon Baldwin was killed. While the latter were driving pack-mules together, early in the morning, Manuel Rojas discovered a man on horseback in the unfrequented locality. He aroused his companions, and the three started to overtake the rider. While following up the trail they ran into the camp of a party of 14 bandits belonging to Bernal's band, and were fired upon. Santiago Rojas' head was blown literally to pieces. Francisco's body was found full of bullet holes. In the body of Manuel, who had the least number of wounds of all, bullet holes were found. The bandits rifled the pockets of the dead, and from Francisco took $1800, which he was taking to Ventanas. The packs were left intact.

A report comes from Valparaiso, Zacatecas, that Bernal has been seen in the vicinity, and that the Governor-General has left the capital with 300 cavalry for that point. The Federal Government has made it known to the Governors of the States in which the band has been operating that Bernal must be captured or killed and his followers dispersed.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 1.—The golden jubilee of Pope Leo XIII was celebrated with elaborate ceremonies in the cathedral of Sts. Peter and Paul today.

Terrible Catastrophe.

CHICAGO, Jan. 1.—The daily News' special from Forgetown, Ala., says: A terrible catastrophe occurred last night, in which three persons were killed outright and between 20 and 30 injured. The colored Baptists had gathered in their church to watch the old year out and the new year in, as is the custom, and during the festivities so great was the crowd that the floor gave way and the building collapsed. A scene of terror ensued. Mary Allison and Mrs. Jones and her child were taken from the wreck dead.

Still Another Railway Disaster.

A number of passengers were severely shaken up.

Base-Ball.

Between 300 and 400 people witnessed the game of base-ball between the Duryea and Stockwell and the McCarthy and Ebright nines, at the Sixth-street grounds yesterday afternoon. The nines were composed of the Los Angeles team, evenly divided, the full number being made up of well-known local amateur and professional players. The teams were very evenly matched, the score resulting as follows: Duryea and Stockwell, 5; McCarthy and Ebright, 4. The latter were blanked until the ninth inning, when, under the able coaching of Benny Benjamin, four runs were piled up. Almost a riot ensued at the end of the game over the score, but it was quelled before any damage was done.

Arrested for Battery.

William Sanders, a bootblack, wanted to polish up the shoes of Peter Cronis, a clerk in the fruit stand kept by Morros, the Greek, on Spring street, Saturday morning, and take his pay in apples. Peter did not think he needed William's services and told him so. This did not suit the knight of the brush, who came into the stand and began abusing Cronis, winding up by calling him hard names. This was too much for the Greek, who caught hold of Sanders and shoved him out. In falling he struck a rock and fell violently to the pavement, cutting himself severely on the cheek. Several bystanders who saw the affair called at the police station and Cronis was arrested on a charge of battery, and Sanders was locked up as a witness. Cronis was released on depositing $40 cash bail.

Fremont Reception.

A correspondent says: "I think that General Fremont should be tendered a grand public reception—one given by the whole of Los Angeles county, and independent of any party or organization. We want to all see and welcome the old hero and General, and I think that any other kind of a reception would not be good taste. Mr. Editor, am I not correct?" Entirely.

The Aged Pontiff Attends the Ceremonies at St. Peter's,

And Receives Applause from the People—He Faints Twice.

The Hungarian Prime Minister Says There Will Be No European War—King Humbert for Peace—New Year's Day Observances on the Other Side.

By Telegraph to The Times.

ROME, Jan. 1.—[By Cable and Associated Press.] The pontifical mass today was a great success. Thousands of people thronged St. Peter's square early in the morning awaiting the opening of the cathedral. Sixty thousand admission tickets had been issued and the cathedral was packed. The Pope entered at 8:30 a.m., followed by the cardinals in procession. His Holiness was received with loud and long-continued shouts of "Long live the Pope." The music of the mass was deeply impressive and many persons in the audience were affected.

Two battalions of the line and a large number of carbinieri regulated the movement of the crowd at the cathedral, and 1000 policemen in plain clothes were stationed inside the edifice. A few ladies fainted in the crush, but no accident occurred. In the chapel the columns in the pilasters were hung with red damask. The statue of St. Peter was clothed in pontifical garments, with a tiara on the head. The orchestra included the famous ancient silver trumpets. Many members of the nobility were present.

The Pope wore the pastoral ring presented by the Austrian Archduke. His tiara was covered with 1000 pearls. The chalice used by his holiness was the gift of the King of Portugal, and the golden plate used in the service was a present from Queen Victoria.

Forty-eight cardinals and 238 archbishops and bishops were present at the mass, and it is estimated that there were 30,000 persons in the audience. The Pope prayed for a long time in his private chapel, and then received the homage of the court of cardinals. While assuming his sacredotal vestments the Pope was overcome with emotion and fainted. Strong salts were administered and he returned to consciousness. He then ascended the chair, and was borne on the shoulders of attendants, accompanied by the cardinals, into St. Peter's Cathedral. Just before he was fully vested for the altar he again fainted, remaining unconscious a few minutes.

The mass occupied 28 minutes. After pronouncing the benediction the Pope again seated himself in the chair, and was borne completely around the altar to the Capella del Sacramente, where he offered up a prayer of thanksgiving. During the ceremony the Pope wore the triple crown presented him by the Emperor William.

The Pope blessed all present, and left the cathedral at 11 a.m. The whole audience expressed its joy by clapping hands, waving hats and handkerchiefs and enthusiastic acclamations.

Later in the day King Humbert expressed himself to a deputation from Parliament as being highly satisfied with the smoothness of the ceremony, which he said was the best proof of the Pope's liberty in Rome.

MADRID, Jan. 1.—The Queen Regent, accompanied by members of her court and Cabinet Ministers, attended the jubilee mass in San Isadore Cathedral today. All Government offices were decorated and at night brilliantly lighted in honor of the Pope.

PESTH, Jan. 1.—[By Cable and Associated Press.] Premier Tisza, replying to New Year's congratulations from Liberals today, said that he did not believe war imminent. ROME, Jan. 1.—The King and Queen received members of the Senate and Chamber of Deputies in the palace today. Referring to foreign affairs, King Humbert said that Italy had never enjoyed as good a position as now. At the beginning of the year just ended, he said, war appeared probable, but matters had arranged themselves, and he hoped that 1888 would be a year of peace.

PETERSBURG, Jan. 1.—A Franco-Belgian banking syndicate is seeking a 60-years' concession from the Government for the construction of a naphtha conduit from Baku to Batoum, with the right of exporting naphtha products duty free. The Council of the Empire and the firms interested in the naptha trade oppose the granting of such concession, but the Government favors the idea, hoping, it is said, to contract a loan in exchange.

"Bill Wylas."

Two young men, while toiling in the line of march to the postoffice delivery Saturday evening, got into a scuffle about who should interview the delivery clerk first, and the earnest way they went to work on each other indicated gore, hair and tear, but it ended with tearing each other's clothes and the eruption of volcanic epithets, laden with sulphurous gases indicative of red-hot competition. The jeers of the crowd, as they struck back and forth, cooled their ardor, and they fell into line and serenely plodded their way up to the throne of grace. Their names are withheld, as it is trying on good nature to "work the line" under the most favorable circumstances. "Bill Wylas" will investigate the matter.

An Exhibit.

In a conversation with Mr. C. P. Higgins of Carpinteria, agent for Santa Barbara county in this city, he stated that his county has ordered him to discontinue its exhibit in this city. Mr. Higgins has ably represented Santa Barbara interests, and by his fair and honest statements has won for himself the confidence of those to whom he has presented Santa Barbara's inducements. The collection of deciduous fruits and vegetables displayed by Mr. Higgins was self-evident demonstration of the extravagant manner in which Southern California soil will produce when tilled by the intelligent fruit farmer.

A Narrow Escape.

The barkeeper at McManus' saloon, on Aliso street, had a narrow escape last night. A man had some trouble in the saloon, when he suddenly rushed to the door and blazed away at the barkeeper. Officer Harris saw the man, and gave chase. He was followed to the Strasbourg Hotel, where all trace of him was lost for the time being. Later he was arrested and brought to the police station, where he gave the name of John Daley. He denied all knowledge of the shooting, but his pistol was found hidden in his room, and he was fully identified.

A Coat Thief.

One of the overcoats stolen from the Nadeau House about two weeks ago was found Saturday night by Officer Auble in a second-hand store on Alameda street kept by S. Grungast. The proprietor refused to tell anything about the coat, and was brought to the police station and charged with receiving stolen goods. His bail was fixed at $250, which he was unable to give, and he was locked up. The coat was identified by the owner, J. P. Kenredy, and Grungast will have to explain in court how it came into his possession.

Some Street Nuisances.

[Chicago Journal.]

There are three things that annoy me enormously—yea, there are four things that make my blood boil whenever I see them: (1) The brazen-faced masher who stand on the street corner, or goes lolling along the sidewalk, insulting decent women by his amorous looks and actions; (2) the dudish cigarette-smoker who goes along the street puffing his nasty fumes into the faces of other people; (3) the nervous, don't-know-what-they-are-about creatures, male and female, who rush along a crowded sidewalk like lunatics, poking their umbrella handles or their packages or their elbows into your ribs, or bumping their persons against yours in a most aggravating manner; (4) the man who stops you right in the middle of a thronged sidewalk when you are in a hurry and insists upon giving you a detailed history and a graphic description of what ails him, when you don't care a fig. These four classes of people worry the life out of me. If it wasn't for my profound indisposition to encourage the wild and fiendish Anarchists who are prowling about town, I would be tempted to carry a pocketful of dynamite bombs with which to protect myself and all my fellow-sufferers against those intolerable street nuisances.

A Good Joke All Round.

[Boston Transcript.]

He was a quiet-looking man. He was gazing intently into an opening in the street. He had not stood there long before a curious individual stopped to see what the quiet man was looking at. "I beg your pardon," said the newcomer, "but has there been an accident?" "My friend," replied the other, "would you think it possible that three men could fall down that hole, and nobody offer to help them?" "Three men!" exclaimed the curious man; "you don't say so! Where's the police? Something must be done for these poor fellows." And he ran down the street on a double quick in search of assistance. The quiet-looking man laughed as though his sides would split. "That's a good one," he said, with an additional chuckle. Then he put his hand in his pocket. His watch was gone. The last that was seen of him he was busy making inquiries of everybody he met in regard to a man wearing ready-made clothes and a very innocent expression on his countenance.

A Minnesota Compliment to Brown ing.

[St. Paul Globe.]

There is a very breezy young lady of literary tastes living on Summit avenue, who thought the acme of her desires had been attained when she was introduced to Charles Dudley Warner, who has been paying us a visit. After clasping his hand she commenced the conversation with the inquiry:

"O, Mr. Warner, don't you adore Mr. Browning?"

Mr. Warner murmured in reply that the section of country he came from thought something of the mystic poet.

"We," she continued with much emphasis, "think that he scoops the whole lot."

Don't Forget That

[Newark (N. J.) Journal.]

Every time you lend money you lose a friend.

Every time you borrow you take a hack at your self-reliance.

Every time you gush over classic music you play the hypocrit.

Every time you throw a banana peel on the sidewalk you endanger somebody's neck.

Every time you promise to mail a letter for your wife you will forget all about it for a week.

Every time you practice on your measly cornet you hasten your neighbors toward their graves.

The Missourian's Revenge.

[Nebraska State Journal.]

"Colonel, the last time I saw you the Sheriff had you in charge."

"Yes; he had the impudence to arrest me for killing a man who insulted me."

"Who was the man?"

"A waiter in Dobson's Hotel. I was putting up there for the night, and I ordered the waiter to bring me a drink to my room."

"Well?"

"Well, the red-headed idiot brought me a pitcher of ice-water, and I plugged him."

Silence Gave Consent.

A lover once pondered an amorous plea
For many a day,
Resolved that the tale of his passion should be Told in a neat way.
The tenderest terms of the language he sought,
And conned them till all were arranged as they ought,
"I'm perfectly certain what I'll say," he thought,
"Oh, what will she say?"

Yet, strangely enough, when he knelt by her side
It chanced to be fall
That none of the eloquent speeches he tried
Would come at his call.
His cowardly tongue could say little, at best.
But his brave eyes said much—and a kiss said the rest,
While she only hid her fair face in his breast,
Saying nothing at all!

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

Educated English Women "Helps."

PENKETH (near Warrington, Eng.), Dec. 11, 1887.—[To the Editor of THE TIMES.] I am glad to know that my first party of educated women helps have safely arrived in Pasadena. Another party is on the way, and another starts in January. Might I ask that a committee of Christian ladies be formed at Los Angeles to receive these English women and show them kindness? Mrs. M. Louise Thomas, the president of Sorosis, has formed a committee there. I supplied them with luncheon-baskets for their journey. I am sure it only needs that I ask this kindly reception from the many philanthropists of Los Angeles. I wish also that you would post me any copies of your paper containing lists of wages paid all tradesmen. Many good workmen apply to me, especially architects and builders. Let the secretary of committee write me. Truly yours,

MRS. MARGARET E. PARKER,
President W.C.T.U.

Why Manners Are Decaying.

[Jennie June in New York World.]

Higher education has something to do with the gradual decline in that social and domestic sweetness which is the outgrowth of the performance of loving little duties and attentions one toward another. The daughter has her school, her college, her post-graduate courses, her societies and her discussions of political economy and her "aims," and no longer relieves her mother of household cares or places the slippers by the fire for her father. The son has his night-key, his own set of companions and associates, is only seen at meal times and not always then, and has so many engagements that sister or mother can rarely rely upon him as an escort, and are often obliged to seek or accept the kindness of strangers or mere acquaintances for the attention which they do not find at home. But this is not the worst of "society" young men. Vanity and imbecility are fast rendering them an indistinguishable race—neither divine, human nor respectable as brutes, but a new species, possibly the "missing link," to be investigated and assigned a place by naturalists. A young dude recently made it a condition of going to a party with his sister that she should not "interduce," any one. He did not want to "increase" his list of acquaintances; beside he was "afwaid" the "collection" might be "mixed." This is literally true.

Only One Way.

[Nebraska State Journal.]

A tall Missourian called at the district school, and, eying the teacher, said:

"My son Henry tells me you whipped him last evening."

"Yes," assented the teacher, edging toward the door, "but he deserved it, I assure you."

"And he says you used a rawhide on him."

"Yes, sir, but——"

"And you slapped him with your hands, as well?"

"I did, but I assure you——"

"Assure nothin'. Let me give you a pointer. When you have to punish that boy, use a club; he doesn't care a durn for rawhides."

"Did You Go?"

[Texas Siftings.]

Gus Snobberly (who has prolonged his evening call until nearly midnight): "Parroths are very amuthing tweetures, Miss Bondclipper, and very sagacious. I thaw one at a lady's house one day, and he thaid: 'Big fool, go home, go home?'" "Well, and did you go?"

MINNEAPOLIS!

This New Townsite!

Beautifully located on line of Southern Pacific Railroad, four miles north of Los Angeles,

NOW ON THE MARKET!

The Prices of Lots Range from $350 to $450.

TERMS OF SALE—One-third cash, one-third in six months, one-third in one year.

This winter will be a repetition of last. Outside property will advance rapidly, and those who buy now at bedrock prices will not only reap the benefit of all improvements that go to enhance values, but will get full advantage of owners' advances which will occur from time to time during the winter.

We start this new town off with the following advantages:

☞It is only four miles from the city.

☞The Southern Pacific Railroad runs through the tract, and depot and side tracks will be built at once.

☞The Los Angeles and Glendale Motor Railroad, now about completed runs within 600 feet of this townsite.

☞The Pasadena Boulevard, now an assured fact, is laid out immediately through the center of the tract.

☞The San Fernando County Road runs along the north line.

There is no finer valley in Southern California. Abundance of water, good mountain air. Parties desiring cheap suburban homes, with rapid and frequent communication with the city, cannot do better than to buy here. Thousands of people will be here this fall seeking homes, and will overflow to outside points for lack of accommodations. Remember how outside property advanced last winter and profit by the experience. Buy early.

OUR PUZZLE CORNER.

1.—A MYSTERY.

A thing well known to you I am,
My form you often greet;
Without my aid the printed page
Would hardly be complete.

In families immense I dwell,
Without a thought or care;
And, though I seem an earthly thing,
I'm floating in the air.

At Christmas tide I'm always seen,
And foremost in its joys;
I hover 'round to aid the girls,
But never help the boys.

A roly-poly I in form,
Sometimes I'm black as night,
Sometimes you'll see me painted up
In colors gay and bright.

In joy and grief I have a part,
And all that's just and right,
And everything of good intent
I help with all my might.

Whene'er a journey you begin,
My presence you will need,
Unless 'tis to the Capitol
Your wandering feet would lead.

In prisons, hospitals and jails
You'll find me once again,
And, like the good Samaritan,
I strive to soften pain.

To enter any college hall
I'd never, never dare;
But, visiting the primary school,
You'll always find me there.

Now who this mystery will solve,
And clear the clouds away?
You'll find when once the key is seen,
That "'tis as plain as day."

It is one of the laws of trade, that where it is difficult to find a market for a small quantity of a commodity, multiply the supply and there will be a demand for all and more too. Such has been and still is, in many cases, the condition of the fruit market of California. Instead of being overdone, our fruit business is yet in its infancy. For the inhabitants of a country which can grow all that has made Italy and Spain and France wealthy—and grow those things better and cheaper—to talk of overdoing the fruit business within a generation, is absurd.

A Credit to Los Angeles County.

The Hotel Arcadia at Santa Monica, which is only fifteen miles from Los Angeles, fifty minutes ride by Southern Pacific Railroad, is situated on the border of the Pacific Ocean, and is the best conducted and appointed hotel in Southern California, and as a winter resort it has no equal. We mention a few of the advantages to give our readers an idea of the comforts to be enjoyed: Warm days and nights, elevator, gas, electric bells, hot salt water baths, ladies' and gent's billiard parlors, open sea baths, every room an outside room, six hundred feet of porches, also sun porches, grand garden on land side, terraces and lawn on ocean side, all public rooms overlook the great Pacific. The table and service is the feature of the place.

A Card.

We invite all who are seeking good, safe land investments to call on us for information. We are offering lands that are equal to any in Southern California at prices to encourage all to invest. We ask less than half the prices of other lands of the same quality, and make easy terms of payment. For actual settlers, no other tract can offer equal inducements. Desires to inform the public in general, and real estate buyers and dealers in particular, that we are about entering upon our third year's real estate business in the city of Los Angeles and throughout the State; that we believe firmly now, as in the past, in the great possibilities and future prosperity of this

FAIR "CITY OF THE ANGELS,"

as well as in Southern California, the promised land's acres. That our extensive investments and present holdings of the "real" prove our position, as well as the immense capital.

Of Over $500,000 in Gold Coin

under our exclusive control and command, is further proof that we are now, as heretofore, on the lookout for bargains in real properties, which affords us great pleasure in offering to residents and newcomers the best opportunities for we are well aware that plenty of ready cash is now subject to check (notwithstanding a small percentage of eastern opinion regarding Southern California and high prices),

To Buy Special Bargains,

And Awaiting Investment

in "gilt edge" properties, such as we handle, and that the profits have not all been "shaken out," as we are not all here for our health, and those who are can enjoy a handsome income on small investments; although our office has bought and sold a great many thousand acres, also formed numerous syndicates for the purchase of "big things," large city tracts, immense ranches, etc.,

In Southern California.

We are not aware of one solitary piece or interest in any property sold by us that the purchaser is not well satisfied with or has not made large profits from. In fact

We are Prepared to Purchase

any interest or land sold by us at a handsome advance, to those who desire to sell the same. This is doubly true of any of our syndicates. We have on our books for sale

Over Five Million Dollars'

worth of property, yet we cannot recommend over one-fifth of it as being safe and economical investments for quick returns. The profits in our great ARLINGTON HEIGHTS syndicate (now forming), we can assure you will be large, and with our management and progressive way of doing things, shall be among all shareholders as sales are made.

Equally Divided

Several of our best buys are now in large acreage properties at very low prices. It is not strange that in the great volume of our business some persons will creep in who think they have come far enough west to get

"Sumthin' for Nuthin'."

Such cases are the exception, however. We have had our say for this time, and have no apologies to make. We expect our business to continue, to prosper and grow UPON ITS MERITS ONLY, and therefore do not feel under obligations to even our patrons. At the same time all are invited to visit MCCARTHY'S spacious real estate office and take a ride with us, to get posted, see properties and the sights. No obligation, whatever, to purchase unless it is for your own interests to do so,

BUSINESS.

OFFICE OF THE TIMES.
LOS ANGELES, Saturday, Dec. 31.

There is a temporary Butter famine in this city just now. The recent rough weather prevented south-bound steamers from making their usual landings at any of the ports from which Butter is usually shipped, and the result was that the non-arrival of supplies sent the market up to-day.

In a circular dated December 27th A. Hawk & Co., of San Francisco have the following to say on Citrus Fruits:

"Since our last advices large quantities of oranges have been received in this market and prices have kept up remarkably well, owing to the general holiday demand. Today prices have weakened somewhat, and for parcels which we were selling at $5 per box last week it is hard to obtain $4 for today. However, we expect a good demand at fair prices to-week, at least, as large quantities are being bought for the New Year trade. The good Orange generally is now in market, and we have learned, from experience, that it pays better to pack your fruit carefully, so that when it arrives here there will be no rotten oranges in the box, than it does to pack everything you come across and when the oranges arrive here be at the mercy of the buyer."

The sales of stock at the New York Stock Exchange during the past year were 85,921,-[illegible] shares against 100,809,059 shares for the year ending December 31, 1886, a decrease of 14,881,023 shares.

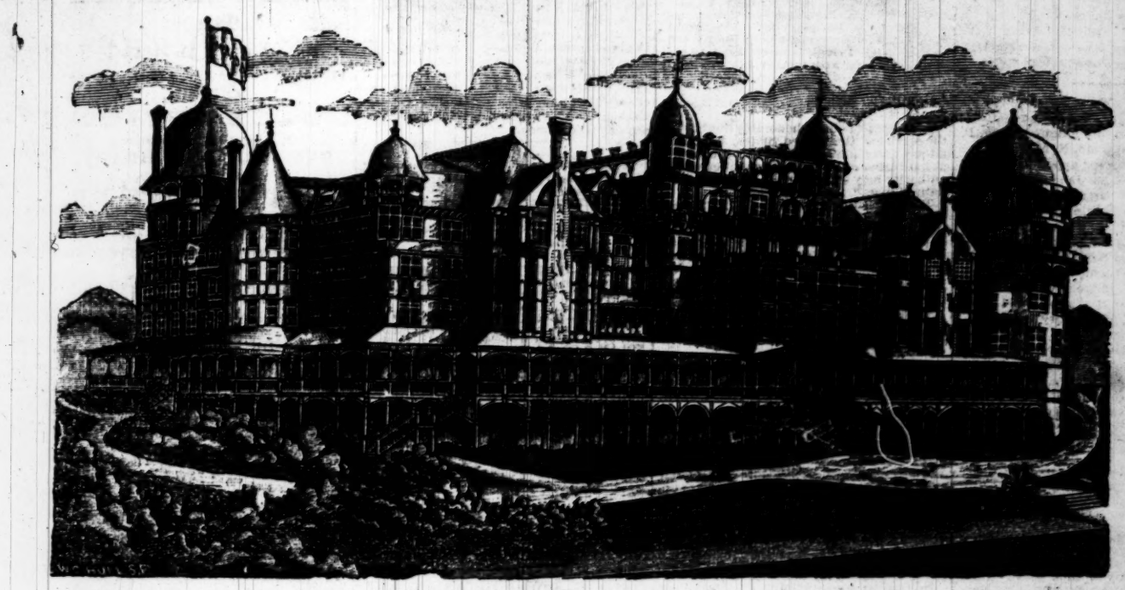
The Gem of the Continent!



Maps will be ready in a few days, and sale of lots to subscribers commenced, of which due notice will be given. Only a portion of the property will be sold this season and more than half of this portion has been subscribed for. The balance reserved until hotel and other improvements near completion. Parties wishing lots should get their signatures on the list at once. Wharf has been contracted for. Railroad from Inglewood to Redondo Beach now being built. Look out for important announcements to be made public in a few days relative to this place as a commercial harbor second to none on the coast. Parties who subscribe for lots now will soon realize their great value.

REDONDO BEACH.

SIXTEEN MILES SOUTHWEST OF THE CITY OF LOS ANGELES, IS without doubt the finest place on the continent for a seaside resort, and the enterprising company is doing all that ample means and broad ideas suggest to fully realize the grand results that nature has made possible. Two miles of water front aligned like a half-moon bay, of which the northern horn is occupied by a remarkably fine pebble beach, the southern part by the very best bathing beach anywhere to be enjoyed, while the middle portion is an abrupt shingled shore, bordering water so very deep that the largest ships may lie free from ground-swell within a stone's throw of land. Rising behind this frontage a peculiarly beautiful rolling land is backed by low but commanding hills, something less than a mile from shore and in amphitheatre form, so that the place is a panorama unto itself from every point of view. The higher grounds look back upon the city of Los Angeles and the Sierra Madre range, and the ocean view in the opposite direction is set between rocky headlands that hold it as in a frame for the outlook of the surroundings.

A salt-spring lake, half a mile in length, whose waters are much more dense than those of the sea, presents opportunities for quiet boating and peculiarly healthful bathing not paralleled at other places. The soils are remarkably fertile; the fresh water supply, to be piped throughout the tract, is pure and abundant, and the sub-soils are open and absorptive. So that beautifying of grounds is of easy accomplishment, and the healthfulness of the place is assured. A hotel of the most ample dimensions, picturesque effects and perfect appointments is to be built adjoining the beach, on a site terraced to the water-front promenade, and flanked by a park which extends to the bathing beach on one hand and on the other to the IRON PIER, costing over $100,000, reaching into deep water and arranged for landing of boats of every description, from the mosquito yacht to the trans-ocean clipper.

THE CHAUTAUQUA ASSEMBLY—Grounds for the accommodation of the Chautauqua Assembly of Southern California have been set aside, and here the management are about to build an amphitheatre and other permanent structures.

MUTINOUS SCOUTS.

A Life Sentence by Court Martial Reduced by Gen. Miles.

The following is a synopsis of a general court-martial order, issued from Gen. Miles's headquarters, promulgating the sentences in the cases of a number of regularly enlisted Indian scouts who mutinied at San Carlos last June, and, in addition to the crime of desertion, were the ringleaders in the stampede at that time, remaining in the mountains until chased by the troops back to the reservation:

Arraigned before the court (of which Maj. Anson Mills, Tenth Cavalry, is president) were the following-named members of Company A, Indian scouts: First Sergt. Kid, Sergt. As-ki-say-la-ha, Corp. Na-con-qui-say, and Privates Be-cho-on-dath and Margy, charged with mutiny, in violation of the 23d Article of War, and desertion, in violation of the 47th Article of War.

Findings: "Guilty of charge and specifications."

Sentence: "To be dishonorably discharged the service of the United States, forfeiting all pay and allowances, and to be confined at hard labor at such place as the reviewing authority may direct for the period of their natural lives."

The proceedings, findings and sentences in each case have been approved by the Commanding General of the Department, but the period of confinement mitigated by him as follows: First Sergt. Kid, 10 years; Sergt. As-ki-say-la-ha, 15 years; Corp. Na-con-qui-say, 20 years. Privates Be-cho-on-dath, 20 years, and Margy 3 years. The military prison at Ft. Leavenworth, Kan., is designated as the place for the execution of so much of the sentence as relates to confinement at hard labor.

BOARD OF HEALTH.

Dr. Orme, President of the Board, Writes a Letter.

BOARD OF TRADE ROOMS,
LOS ANGELES, Dec. 31, 1887.

T. E. Rowan, Chairman Board of Supervisors, Los Angeles County—DEAR SIR: For several weeks past the attention of our people has been called to the dispatches appearing in our papers relative to the rapid spread of smallpox in San Francisco. On the 29th inst., at a meeting of the Board of Health of that city, the board passed a resolution declaring the smallpox epidemic in that city, and stringent measures were ordered taken to fight the disease.

Self-preservation is the first law of Nature, and the rule applies as well to communities as to individuals. I am directed, therefore, on the part of the directors of the board, through its president, Mr. Eugene Germain, to call your attention, and that of your honorable board, to the existing state of affairs in that city, and to suggest that it would be eminently prudent on the part of the Board of Supervisors, to take immediate action to prevent, as far as practicable, the advent of that dread disease into our city, at least so far as it can be prevented from reaching us from San Francisco over the ordinary routes of travel, viz., via railroad and steamer.

Quarantine officers stationed at San Pedro, and at Tulare, on the line of the Southern Pacific, acting under your authority, would, in our opinion, be the least precaution that our community could take.

I am directed further to suggest that you call a special meeting of your board to take immediate action. Very respectfully,

A. M. LAWRENCE, Secretary.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 31, 1887.

T. E. Rowan, Chairman Board of Supervisors Los Angeles County—DEAR SIR: Your request made to me at your special meeting held this day, to answer the letter of the Los Angeles Board of Trade of even date, is at hand.

They suggest that the Board of Supervisors take such measures as will prevent the appearance of smallpox in our midst, and in their letter they state: "Quarantine officers stationed at San Pedro and Tulare, on the line of the Southern Pacific, acting under your authority, would in our (their) opinion be the least precaution that our community could take."

Would say in reply, first, that your board ought to appoint a competent health officer both at San Pedro and Newhall, and, in fact, in every unincorporated town, and also township, in the county. Tulare is not in this county, hence I mention Newhall.

The State Board of Health will, in the future as in the past, exert itself to the utmost to assist the proper authorities in each and every section of the State to stamp out the smallpox and every other contagious and infectious disease which may threaten the people.

From the earnest and active cooperation of the State Board of Health received from your Board of Supervisors early in this year, we have no doubt that you can assure the Board of Trade of Los Angeles and the citizens of Los Angeles county that everything possible will be done to speedily stamp out even the first appearance of smallpox in this section.

In conclusion would state that I have just telegraphed to Dr. Tyrell, permanent secretary of the State Board of Health, to call a meeting of the board at once, when the whole subject matter of protecting the State from a threatened epidemic of smallpox will receive the most careful consideration, and effective measures will be speedily adopted.

All of which is respectfully submitted by

R. S. ORME, M. D.,
For State Board of Health.

Total for 1886, fees, $47,594 30; folios, 120,632. By act of the last Legislature, taking effect May 10, 1887, the fees were reduced about one-third, so that the increase in business is not fairly shown by the fees subsequent to that date.

A Lost Frenchman.

The Chief of Police has received a letter from Vice-Consul Moore, at Lyons, France, making inquiries as to the whereabouts of J. Vallet, who formerly had a steam dyeworks at the corner of New High street and Bellevue avenue, with an office at 116 South Spring street. The inquiries are made at the instance of F. Vallet, a brother of the man, who says that nothing has been heard of him for 18 months.

Steamer Departures.

The following passengers left by the steamer Los Angeles for San Francisco yesterday: A. M. Britt, S. P. Young, H. Ringstal, M. Street, C. Quinn, C. E. Averill and wife, John Williams, Samuel Williams, H. M. Moeshus, B. Schroeder.

San Fernando defies competition in the citrus fruit lands. She defies anybody to find a scale-bug in the valley or a finer climate anywhere. It would pay to go and see the old mission, even if one does not want land. Recollect, water in quantities desired by purchasers guaranteed and shown to be already flowing.

The Flower Festival of 1888.

Applications are already being made for floor-space, and parties outside of the city are preparing their gardens in hopes that their plants may call for one of the four premiums offered. It is hoped that a lady decorator will be found to plan the decoration of the hall for this festival. One hundred dollars is offered for the best plan.

A LUNCH ROOM

has been opened by this society in the basement of their Home on Fourth street, east of Main, where home cooking will be served. Families wishing to send in cooked food, and receive fair prices from the Flower Festival Exchange, will do well to apply at the Home, any day before noon.

Hesperia.

The sale of lots and lands in Hesperia will open at 19 North Spring street on the 5th of January, 1888.

CATARRH!

THROAT DISEASES, BRONCHITIS, ASTHMA,

CONSUMPTION,

Together with diseases of the EYE, EAR AND HEART,

Successfully treated by

M. HILTON WILLIAMS, M.D.,
M. C. P. S. O.,
No. 275 North Main Street,
A few doors south of the new postoffice, Los Angeles, Cal.

CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED.

This has been demonstrated in thousands of cases treated by

DR. WILLIAMS,

With his new system of Medicated Inhalations combined with proper constitutional remedies for the liver, stomach, blood, etc.

Probably no system of practice ever adopted has been so universally successful as that introduced by Dr. Williams for the cure of Catarrh, Throat Diseases, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

Inhalations are applicable in all diseases of the respiratory organs, but must be prepared for each individual case as they severally require.

Persons desiring treatment by this system of practice can use the remedies at home as well as at our office, and which will cause no inconvenience or hindrance to business whatever.

I have seen so many of these cases cured that I do not consider any case hopeless unless both lungs are seriously involved. Even then the inhalations aid us in dissolving the mucus and in contracting and healing the cavities which nothing else can do with the same success.

The very best references from those already cured.

CONSULTATION FREE.

Those who desire to consult with me in regard to their cases had better call at the office for consultation and examination, but if impossible to do so can write for a copy of my Medical Treatise, containing a list of questions. Address,
